

A QUICK REMINDER ----- FALL REGIONAL MEETING

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 2001

It's getting close to fall and all those traditional activities that are associated with the season. Mine include pulling ragweed and thistle, raking leaves, disposing of rotted vegetables and replanting grass. Along with those activities come the good ones, like checking packages of bulbs that come in the mail that are full of new exciting daffodil bulbs. Of course, these is also the fall meeting of the Midwest Region of the American Daffodil Society.

Again, this year, the meeting will be in Dayton at the Wegerzyn Garden Center. Coffee, tea and doughnuts will be available around 9:00 a.m. Our business meeting will be at 10:00, followed by an informative talk by Naomi Liggett. This is one that all of us should hear, but can also be a judges refresher for anyone needing that, for a fee of $3.00.

Then comes the second-best part of the day - our pot-luck lunch. Bring some luscious dish to share and table service for yourself. After lunch comes the best part of the meeting - the bulb exchange. Bring several nice bulbs to share and be prepared to take home a few new ones for your own garden.

As part of our business meeting, regional officers for the next year will be elected. Since no one is opposed, there is no need for mail-in ballots this year.
