Narcissi

The most widely grown of all naturalizing flower bulbs, deer- and rodent-proof Narcissi emblazon gardens, fields and woodlands with a brilliant profusion of sunny blooms. They tolerate full sun to partial shade, prefer well-draining soil and hate "wet-feet". To promote naturalization, Narcissi should be fed with our Dutch Organic Bulb Food three times a year and must have their foliage grown (untied and uncut) until it dies back naturally.

Trumpet Daffodils

Trumpet Daffodils naturalize well and have a long blooming season with large, bold flowers with trumpets as long as, or longer than, the flower petals. DNII bulb size: 14/16 cm, unless otherwise noted. 18" to 20". April. Plant 6" to 8" deep and 6" apart. HZ: 3-7.

The Rinus Rim Narcissus Mixture: This is a very special mixture of eight Large Cupped Narcissi. Each variety has been specially selected and grown by Dutchman Rinus van der Salm, a fine grower of Narcissi who is fascinated with distinctive cup edges. This hand-selected, unique mixture includes Large Cupped Narcissi Audubon, Chiel, Have a Loek, Rick and Vio, as well as three varieties that are so new that they are not yet named. Each variety has a well-formed ivory to white perianth and a trumpet- or bowl-shaped cup in ivory, pale yellow, golden-yellow, pale peachy-pink or apricot-pink with a wavy or frilled rim edged in contrasting rose-pink, reddish-orange or apricot pink. (If you are interested in any of these individual varieties, the only ones that are available as of yet are Narcissus Audubon on page 31 and Narcissus Rick on page 35.) You will cherish them in prized garden displays or in extraordinary floral bouquets. 16" to 20". (8778)
