	2013 convention invitation presented

Welcome to the Maryland Daffodil Society's 2012 ADS Convention Seminar Experience. Our facilitators won't lecture you; expect a conversation, them with each other and you with them. Please ask questions and offer your own comments. ENJOY ... just remember each session—no matter how fascinating—must run no longer than an hour.

- a. UPPER DIVISION DAFFODILS – Kate and Mitch Carney bring from their South Mountain Flower Farm a beautifully illustrated commentary on the best of Divisions five through nine. Learn how to grow them.
- b. KEEPING DAFFODILS HEALTHY IN THE SMALL GARDEN – No likelihood of moving all your daffodils into fresh, virgin soil; every two years? Ted Snazelle and Bob Huesmann can help you to cope right where you are.
- c. HERE COME THE CLASSICS –What's new with the not so new daffodils? Well, they now have their very own spot on our show schedules. Loyce McKenzie and Margaret Mac Neale show and talk about some of the best.
- d. INCORPORATING DAFFODILS IN THE LANDSCAPE –All of us—when we're honest—agree daffodils look better enjoying the breeze in a natural setting than when posed upright in a test tube on a bench. Which will perform best for you and how to decide where to place them? David Burdick and Robert Darling will jump start your imagination.
- e. HYBRIDIZING FOR BEGINNERS—Mary Lou Gripshover and Bob Spotts two of America's most accomplished hybridizers, will have you eager to begin daubing pollen. Their conversation should prove both inspirational and practical.
- f. TOUGHEST PROBLEMS FOR JUDGES – Think of the worst situations you've ever confronted in judging daffodils. What to do? Learn how expert judges would handle them. Kathy Andersen, Rod Armstrong, plus a third surprise panelist, tackle your questions as well as discuss their own toughies.
