

2023 ADS Convention (Atlanta) Daffodil Show Standard Winners

by Tom Stettner, Ohio • May 22, 2023 • 1 Comment

Click any photo to see a larger view

Friends

I'm happy to say that I'm regularly working on photos now. As time permits, I'll be making regular posts both here on Daffnet and on Facebook where they are made public so a friend request is not necessary to view the albums. By the way, I have about 12 years of flower show photo albums on Facebook if anyone is interested. I usually title the album by the name of the city the show was held in to make searching easy.

For this Convention show, a couple of standout flowers for me, was Apache Tears and Esker Farms Innovation winner of 5Y-O (a mini in the last post of mini ADS award winners). Apache Tears is one of Bob Spotts Green bred beauties.

Photos below. Enjoy!

The Standard "Best in Show" was La Delicatesse, exhibited by Kirby Fong.

The Standard White ribbon winner for the best vase of 3 standard daffodils was Gympie, exhibited by Steve Hampson.

The rose ribbon winner, exhibited by Larry Force.

The Olive Lee, and Fowlds award, Vineland, exhibited by Kirby Fong

The Grant and Amy Mitsch Memorial Trophy for the best vase of 3 of a standard seedling by the exhibitor. Exhibited by Kathy Welsh. Bryanston Open Pollenated.

The Historic 3 stem award AND single Stem Award was “Twink” exhibited by Larry Force.

the Red White and Blue Winner by Karen Cogar, with flowers of Apache Tears, Herman, Spotts 23-100, Perky, and Pleasant Hollow.

The 5 stem Intermediate Award which was ALSO the Purple Ribbon winner for the best 5 stem entry in show. Exhibited by Steve Hampson, the flowers are: Little Alice, My Sweetheart, Reg Nicole, Runkery and Koop.

the New Zealand Award winner. Exhibited by the Carneys with flowers of, Tayforth Gem, Billy the Kid, Whitford Sunset, Pirongia Tulle and Scouts Honor.

The Northern Ireland Award, exhibited by Susan Basham with flowers of, (from left straight over to the right), Temba, Maria Pia, Oly's Medal, Lennymore and Janets Gold.

The Classic 5 stem award, exhibited by Cici Brown. The flowers are: Perimeter, Desdemona, Slieveboy, Ruth Haller and Falstaff.

The Quinn Award for the best entry of 24 stems from at least 5 divisions. Exhibited by Steve Hampson.

the Link Award for the best entry of 3 cultivars by the exhibitor in the Hybridizers section. Exhibited by Bob Spotts.

The Georgia Daffodil Society offered a trophy for the best collection of 5 different all yellow daffodils. The winner was exhibited by Kirby Fong. the top left flower name is not fully visible, but is – Kittochtinny

The Murray Evans award, offered for the best entry of 6 standard daffodils bred by the exhibitor was awarded to an entry by Bob Spotts with all his hybrids.

The East Tennessee Daffodil Society offered a trophy of a painting by Lynn Ladd for the best 5 stem entry of orange cupped daffodils. Exhibited by Carla Stanley. flower names in the photo.

The Dutch award, offered for the best collection of 5 Daffodils, from 5 different decades, exhibited by Peggy Bowditch, with flowers of – Ceylon, Wild Rover, Equation, Hot Gossip and Brackenhurst.

the Bozievich award for the best entry of 12 stems from at least 4 divisions was awarded to the collection exhibited by Steve Hampson.

One of the stems that stood out to me in this convention was Apache Tears. One of the green hybrids bred by Bob Spotts.

the Trockmorton award winner for the best entry of 15 cultivars, from all different classifications. Exhibited by Steve Hampson.

Spotts Award for the bests collection of 5 blooms all with primary green color code. Exhibited by Bob himself with all his hybrids.

Runkery, from the Intermediate/Purple Ribbon win, exhibited by Steve Hampson..