culture and forcing

OUTDOOR CULTURE

Daffodils thrive in any good garden soil, preferably deep well-drained loam. Deep preparation of the soil is necessary, and old rotted manure or compost may be worked in 16 or 18 inches below the surface, so as not to come in direct contact with the bulbs. Fresh manure should never be used.

Plant in the early fall, especially Poeticus types. The more vigorous, larger varieties may be planted as late as December, but early planting is best.

In medium soils, cover the bulbs about twice their depth, and a little deeper in the lighter soils. The average for most sorts is three to four inches from the top of the bulb. Set bulbs at a uniform depth, otherwise they may flower irregularly.

CULTURE IN POTS OR BOXES

Daffodils should be potted in September or October in good loamy soil, adding a little sand or leaf mold and a small amount of bone flour. (About two pounds to the bushel of soil.)

The old pots must be washed thoroughly and allowed to dry before using. New pots should be soaked. Provide drainage by placing pieces of charcoal or fragments of pots over the drainage hole. A little ground peat in the bottom regulates drainage, retaining moisture.

After ten or twelve weeks they may be removed indoors for flowering. Select the earliest varieties first, thus extending the flowering season.

Do not bring them into a warm temperature. 50 to 60 degrees is best at first. Do not give any bottom heat. Later, when the flower buds are well advanced, the temperature may be increased to not more than 65 degrees.

When the pots are first brought to the light, the tender shoots may be covered for a day or two with an inverted flower pot to prevent injury from light or draft. A little weak liquid manure once a week, until buds burst, will hasten the flowers after growth has started.

Always have plenty of light and air.

NATURALIZING

Daffodils planted in clusters in the foreground of shrubbery, or sown broadcast through woodlands, along hillsides, in meadows or lawns, and planted where they fall, give a most pleasing natural effect. They will increase in beauty and number without special care and become permanently established. In heavy soils the most vigorous varieties should be used. More pleasing effects result from grouping the various types, such as all trumpets, all Poeticus, etc.

MINIATURES

They are charming little subjects for rock work, where their dainty flowers are seen to perfection. They should be left undisturbed for years, and if happy, will soon establish themselves and afford a lovely picture in early spring. The Bulbocodium like moisture and should therefore be planted at the foot of the rockery.

DAFFODIL FORCING

Narcissi grow and flower in a cool and moist climate and they cannot be made to flower earlier by the mere application of high temperatures, as can be done to a certain extent with Tulips and Hyacinths. In Narcissi the flower embryo formation commences at the beginning of May and is generally completed during the fourth week in May. With Hyacinths this process does not start until the end of June and with Tulips not until the first week in August.

In consequence of this, as far as commercial practices are concerned, Daffodils need to be lifted early (normally before the other bulb crops), and since the flower embryos are complete when the bulbs are lifted, there is comparatively little that can be done in the way of pre-treatment.

While Tulips and Hyacinths are "conditioned" for early flowering with the aid of fairly high temperatures, Narcissus bulbs are subjected to lower temperatures. Not only are high temperature treatments for prolonged periods useless for conditioning Narcissi, they are in fact harmful and may cause serious damage to the flowering capacity of the bulbs.

For very early flowering the bulbs are dried off for four days at a temperature of 93° F., which period must not be exceeded for reasons mentioned. This is followed by one or two weeks at 63° F., after which the bulbs are stored at 48° F., until the planting date—the first fortnight in October.

For early flowering the bulbs are stored at 63° F. until September 1 and then at 48° F. until planting date (November 1). A better flower quality can be obtained by storing at 52½° F. during September and at 42° in October.

For late and very late flowering the bulbs are kept at 63° F. throughout their storage period. Planting is done during November. Some bulb growers give these bulbs a slight conditioning by decreasing the temperature to 42° F. for one month before planting. These treatments may of course vary slightly with the different varieties, but this is the bulb growers' specialty. Suffice to say that with Daffodils, as with any other bulb crops, it definitely pays to obtain the bulbs from the best source available.

It is very important that during planting and when heeled in, the bulbs are maintained at a low temperature. Particularly the "cooled" bulbs should not be planted unless a temperature not exceeding 45-50° F. can be maintained. If this temperature cannot be provided, the only thing that can be done is to leave the bulbs in the cold store until the outside temperature drops, generally at the end of September and the beginning of October, and then to heel the boxes in the coolest spot available. Of course, forcers with a temperature-controlled store at their disposal can box the bulbs early in September and leave them in the store at 48° F. Bulbs thus treated will be the earliest to flower and can easily be forced before Christmas. The rules for boxing and heeling-in of the Narcissus bulbs are similar to these for Hyacinths, and in short are: Use deep, well-drained boxes, clean or sterilized soil, provide sufficient moisture for the bulbs, and keep them cool.

Forcing should not be started until the flower-buds have left the bulbs, which can be decided by touch. Generally speaking, this stage will have been reached when the noses are approximately 2 or 3 inches long.

The safest temperature at which forcing should commence is 55° F. This can be raised to 60° F. as soon as extension growth of the flower-buds becomes evident. If the buds do not move at 55° F., it is better to drop the temperature to 50° F. and to try higher temperatures again after a week or perhaps a fortnight.

When the crop is well on its way the temperature may be increased to 65° F., but should be decreased again as soon as the flowers appear, in order to get good color. During forcing, Narcissi should be watered well and regularly. They like a humid atmosphere, and as long as the temperature in the houses is maintained, daily syringing will be beneficial to this crop.

Daffodil bulbs which have not been forced too early can be planted on good land where they should receive good manurial dressings and clean cultivation. If the forced bulbs are added annually to this plot, it will provide a regular source of outdoor flowers. The main point to remember is that after the forced flowers have been cut, the plants should not be neglected, but should be kept growing until the weather is suitable for the bulbs to be planted out.

FLY CONTROL

Growers who used the suggested preplanting soaks of daffodil bulbs last fall found their stocks completely free of bulb fly infestation this summer. Because of its general availability chlordane was used in most places. Last season's experiments indicated that the period of soaking need not exceed 10 minutes. Complete dosage for 10 minute soaks of the bulbs before planting is 4 pounds actual chlordane for 100 gallons. The material should be in the form of emulsifiable concentrate. Chlordane is available in 2 concentrations, one with 4 pounds per gallon, the other 8 pounds per gallon.

To prevent spread of basal rot by the solution it is essential that a fungicide be included. Both materials are compatible with the 2% Ceresan or the phenyl mercuric acetate in general use for basal rot prevention and the most desirable method is to use the insecticide in combination with either of these fungicides as usually used against basal rot. As a disinfectant only, formaldehyde may be used at the rate of 1 quart to 100 gallons.

SHOWING DAFFODILS

A few simple rules about showing daffodils follow: If at all possible show single specimens in bud vases, with one leaf; show either three or five flowers in a larger vase, flanked with a leaf on either side. Arrange the flowers in your hand, then put them in the vase, facing you and hold them in position by inserting a wad of sphagnum moss in the neck of the vase. Set your vases about 12 inches apart, in rows, on a table, raising the second and third rows by placing planks on bricks, up-turned flower pots or boxes. Cover the table with black or dark green cloth and, if possible, intersperse the display with small potted ferns or other green plants.

classification and description

A complete list of the varieties grown and offered by Oregon Bulb Farms in the year 1959 and representing our choice from among the new hybrids raised in England, Ireland, Holland, New Zealand, Australia, as well as our own.

- 9 Actaea (Lubbe)—The largest Poeticus in existence. Broad, snow-white perianth of great substance and good form; the very large eye is broadly margined with dark red. A most beautiful exhibition flower. A. M. (g) 1950. dozen, $4.00
- 1c Ada Finch (de Graaff)—One of the earliest daffodils to flower. Pure white, overlapping perianth; large, finely shaped trumpet with deeply flanged and rolled rim. The immense flower is carried on a tall, stiff stem and the entire plant is beautifully proportioned. In contrast to many of the British white trumpet daffodils, Ada Finch is pure Ajax and represents the culmination of 50 years of breeding white trumpets. Immensely valuable for breeding as its good characteristics, earliness, size and purity of color are carried over into its seedlings. F.C.C.H. 1930. dozen, $4.00
- 2a Adamant (Will., J.C.)—A very beautiful Daffodil; perianth deepest golden yellow, almost the shade of Rouge but again different in tone. The widely expanding cup is deep orange red. F.C.C. (g) 1953. 6 bulbs for $4.00
- 3b Amateur (v. Deur.)—Much overlapping white perianth and a large, perfectly flat, bright scarlet crown. Medium size. A.M. 1943. 6 bulbs for $4.00
- 1a Aerolite (de Graaff)—A golden daffodil that is replacing many of the older varieties; the large flower is beautifully proportioned; perianth deep primrose, with a pure medium yellow trumpet which is left in bold relief by the broad pointed star formed by the flat opening outer petals, an inch and a half wide; medium early, but remains until late, is one of the longest lasting of all daffodils. dozen, $4.00
- 3b Aircastle (Mitsch)—Perfection of form is the striking feature of this flower. The perianth is very rounded and flat and in perfect balance with the small flat crown. The crown is pale apricot lemon with a narrow margin of deeper shade and the perianth opens milk white, but after a few days turns to a greenish beige. A large flower of good substance and vigorous growth. each, $20.00
- 2a Alamein (Rich.)—A lovely flower of the highest quality, with beautifully smooth, broad, flat, clear golden yellow perianth segments, very slightly pointed at the tips, and a rather straight, well-frilled, medium sized cup of intense, deep, solid orange-red. Tall, strong-stemmed, vigorous plant. A.M. (c) 1945. dozen, $8.00
- 1a Alasnam (de Graaff)—Wide, short, densely frilled trumpet of pure deep yellow, a shade deeper than the perianth; finely placed with good neck; flower "looks you in the eye"; excellent for landscape groups, also for forcing; very early and therefore in great demand by discriminating florists who want something earlier and better than King Alfred. dozen, $4.00
- 4 Albus Plenus Odoratus (N. poeticus flore pleno)—Snowy-white, sweet-scented, highly recommended, pure white double Poeticus. Flowers satisfactorily only in cool, moist climate. dozen, $4.00
- 3a Alcida (Backhouse)—Giant flower, creamy perianth opening flat, star-shaped, with individual petals over 1½ inches wide; broad citron-yellow cup with blood-orange frill; strong grower, fine substance and wonderfully free-flowering; very late. A.M.H. 1921. dozen, $4.00
- 3c April Showers (Backhouse)—This is a lovely pure white, short-cupped daffodil with a large, broad perianth and a rather flat, expanded cup that opens lemon-yellow and bleaches to pure white. The attractive, large pure white flowers, carried on long stems, give distinction to the plant. We have used it extensively in our own garden in front of and between our rhododendron and azalea plantings. dozen, $5.00
- 2b Azalea (O.B.F.)—A charming, late-season pink daffodil. The perianth is flat and well rounded, of good substance. The cup is quite flared, a deep pink with paler tints as the flower ages but with a more pronounced pink coloring in the rim. Foliage is broad, blue-green and erect. dozen, $6.00

- 6b Beryl (Williams)—A lovely little Cyclamineus hybrid bearing graceful drooping flowers with primrose-yellow, slightly reflexing perianth and a small globular, bright orange cup shading to gold; ideal for the rock garden and pots; height 8 inches. A.M. 1936. dozen, $4.80

- 3b Brightwork (O.B.F.)—A rather late colorful daffodil with a very full and substantial purest white, Poeticus-type perianth and a fluted and pleated cup, yellow in the throat and vermilion red at the rim. Narrow, deep green foliage that is quite erect. dozen, $9.00
- 2a Broadwater (Stern)—Very much like St. Egwin, this lovely daffodil has a very smooth, broad perianth and a widely open cup—both pure golden yellow. F.C.C. (g) 1953. 3 bulbs for $3.00
- 1c Broughshane (Wilson)—A glorious giant white Ajax of perfect form and balance. The trumpet is widely flanged, reflexed and frilled but does not overbalance the immense perianth, which is fully 5½ inches in diameter, the outer segments being up to 2¼ inches wide.
