Rare and Exciting Selections

Crocus sativus - Saffron Crocus

This is the legendary flower from which Saffron was made — worth its weight in gold in the Minoan culture several thousand years before Christ, and again in the Middle Ages when the crusaders introduced it to England. Today, this lovely violet-blue, fall blooming Crocus provides needed garden color at a time of year when little blooms, and serves as a conversation piece in your garden. From the orange stigmas hang red, thread-like segments which are the source of saffron, long used as a culinary herb, medicine and dyestuff. Once widely grown and of tremendous commercial importance, it is today a rare and attractive addition to any garden. Zones 5-8. Nature dictates that we cease shipment by September 15th.

Daffodil W.P.'s Favorite - A Park Exclusive Introduction!

This spectacular introduction, named in honor of our company's chairman, William Park, is the largest flowered Daffodil we've ever encountered — a full 5 1/2 inches in diameter! Flat-cupped, with bright golden-yellow centers set off by crisp white petals, they will brighten your landscape like brilliant dots of sunshine. A weatherproof Daffodil, 16 to 18 inches tall, that stands up to spring rains and winds, it will look great in your garden for an exceptionally long time. Plant it and, like William Park, you'll choose this one as your favorite, too!

This display lasts for several months in the spring and is repeated in the fall with cool temperatures. A spectacular pot plant and a most desirable garden subject in Zones 8-10 and possibly further north.

Wild (Feral) Daffodil Naturalizing Mix - A New Park Exclusive

Introduced by early settlers, Daffodils are found naturalized all over the eastern U.S. In one such planting from over a hundred years ago, a Mrs. Calentine planted the ancestors of some of these feral, or wild, Daffodils in front of her home on New England Road in Bern Township, Ohio (see photo). Although Mrs. Calentine's house collapsed years ago, the Daffodils have spread to cover almost an acre, their golden blossoms and sweet scent welcoming each spring. We've used a small harvesting of these bulbs (since replaced!) to propagate from so today's gardeners can continue this rich tradition. The mixture includes several different early flowering varieties including N. pseudonarcissus and N. telamonius plenus. Order your own planting of these old varieties today — they will enrich future generations as well as bring enjoyment to the present.

Charming Miniature and Species Daffodils

These petite Daffodils offer beauty in small exquisite packages. The varieties here include some of the earliest and latest blooming of the genus, often with intriguing and exotic form. All are extremely fragrant, and all will bloom and increase year after year, with little or no attention. We have found that many of them perform unusually well in the southernmost Daffodil Country, where their larger sisters may be shortlived. An inexpensive way to have a spectacular display! Zones 3-8, except where stated.

Jonquilla Baby Moon. Deliciously scented, like all the Jonquillas, this free-flowering, many-stemmed variety blooms late spring on 8-inch stems. Delightful planted with Tulips in the rock garden, under foundation shrubs, or on the edge of woodland.

J 8376-3—6 for $2.55; 12 for $4.85;
24 for $9.25; 96 for $32.95

24 for $14.95; 48 for $28.95; 96 for $54.95

Canaliculatus. This Polyanthus type from the Italian Riviera has a sweet scent that is the essence of spring. Its narrow, blue-green foliage surrounds heads of 3-4 white flowers, centered by golden cups. Mid-to-late season, 6 inches tall. Needs full sun.

J 8390-3—6 for $4.65; 12 for $8.75;
24 for $16.95; 48 for $32.45

Tete-a-Tete. Most popular and easy-to-grow, each stem of this early season dwarf displays 1 to 3 lemon yellow flowers. Excellent with ground covers like Vinca and forces splendidly. Height 6 to 8 inches.
