Narcissus Rijnveld's Early Sensation

Cosmos atrosanguineus - Chocolate scent

Clematis florida Sieboldii

Selections from Park

Daffodil Rijnveld's Early Sensation - For Daffodils Popping Out Of The Snow By Christmas!

"No garden should be without this bulb," says our horticultural director, with utmost conviction! This is the earliest of all the large-trumpet Daffodils, always in bloom by Christmas in our gardens. The sulphur-yellow flowers are extremely tough and weather-proof, able to withstand temperatures as low as 10° F when in bloom, and recover! They are born on stout 10 to 12-inch stems that will not blow over in wind and rain. Also excellent in pots and forced indoors. Zones 3-9.

K8399-1—5 for $6.79; 10 for $12.99; 20 for $24.99

Cosmos atrosanguineus - The Rare Chocolate Cosmos

Next time your chocolate craving hits, simply smell this Cosmos! The long-lasting, velvety blooms of rich burgundy, delicate chocolate scent, and spectacular, 18 to 24-inch stems make them excellent cut flowers. Blooms throughout the season; the older the plant, the more it blooms. Spectacular when planted in companion with silver-foliaged plants such as Artemisia. Best in a rich, moisture-retentive soil in sun. Zones 6 (with protection)-10. In colder areas, lift and store in a frost-free place over winter.

K43884-3—$6.29 each; 3 for $16.99; 6 for $32.99

Sedum spectabile Autumn Joy

Among the finest plants, with large flat heads of flowers atop 18 to 24-inch stems clothed in attractive succulent foliage. In late summer, the flowers open light pink, slowly change to salmon and end up a glowing rosy russet by the end of fall. Garden experts in all parts of the country rave about this marvelous plant! Easily grown almost anywhere, in good soil or poor, sun or partial shade. A spectacular maintenance-free perennial. Zones 3-9.

K43705-5—2 for $10.49; 4 for $19.99; 8 for $37.99

Clematis florida Sieboldii (C. f. bicolor) - Rare, Choice Vine

PERENNIAL. Long a rarity, this is one of the choicest and most sought-after of all perennial vines. Large, creamy white sepals flashed with just a hint of chartreuse are the perfect stage to set off the flower's central drama — a cluster of deep purple petal-like anthers glowing with what seems like electric green fire. The 3-inch blooms are born in profusion over a long season, through the height of summer. Like many of the large-flowered Clematis, this is a restrained and well-behaved vine climbing by twining 8 to 12 feet high, excellent for growing on light arbors and trellises, on light posts, trained on netting or string against the wall of the house, or even up through the limbs of a small tree or large shrub (as they grow in nature), without smothering or damage. Zones 6-9.

K44033-1—$9.99 each; 3 for $26.99; 6 for $51.99

Hemerocallis Black Eyed Stella - Repeat bloomer

Hemerocallis Black Eyed Stella

PP 7909. This incredible Daylily blooms for an even longer season than its famous parent, Stella de Oro, with up to 270 days of continuous flowering! You can understand why this wonder was given the top award, out of 6000 tested by the prestigious All-America Daylily Selection Council. It bears glowing yellow flowers with dramatic red eyes, set off by dark blue-green foliage; its great heat tolerance means better performance in the South. Clumps increase quickly, making a spectacular ground cover or edging plant 20 to 24 inches high. Excellent in containers or the border. Zones 4-9.

K44034-3—$12.99 each; 3 for $33.99;
6 for $66.99

Daffodil Rose of May - Sweetly fragrant

Cyclamen Coum - Thrives in shade!

Narcissus poeticus recurvus

Unusual and Outstanding Offerings

Narcissus poeticus recurvus - New

The true Pheasants Eye Narcissus! For hundreds of years this intensely fragrant beauty was the very essence of the genus Narcissus, and the meaning of spring to nearly every gardener in Europe. Today it is much talked about, yet so rare it has almost been lost to cultivation. With its slightly reflexed outer petals of the purest snow white, a lemon-yellow cup delightfully margined with a deep scarlet fringe, and a delicious, powerful, sweet fragrance that is the stuff of legend — Park is proud to restore this great heirloom beauty back to its rightful place as one of the all-time greats. One of the last of the Daffodils to bloom. Excellent for naturalizing, and a good performer even in the South. Best in a little shade, in soil that is moisture-retentive. Grows 15 to 18 inches high. Zones 4-9.

K7965-1—3 for $4.99; 6 for $8.99; 12 for $16.99

Cyclamen Coum

A most valuable bulb, blooming in late winter and early spring when it bears diminutive carmine-pink flowers atop 4-inch stems. The heart-shaped foliage is attractive nine months out of the year; it may be silver, green, or variegated with varying proportions of the two colors. One of the few plants that grows and thrives in dry shade or partial shade, it will spread rapidly once established, both by self-seeding and by the rapid growth of its corm. Delicate, subtle fragrance. Interesting cut for the small specimen vase. Zones 6-8.

K7419-4—2 for $6.99; 4 for $12.99; 8 for $24.99

Daffodil Rose of May

A Guy Wilson hybrid from Britain, this late-flowering Daffodil is blessed with a strong, sweet fragrance, reminiscent of Gardenias. The double blooms, on their strong, 12-inch stems, are exceptionally long-lasting, making them excellent as cut flowers. The 1½-inch flowers are produced in clusters of several to a stem for a large show in the garden, and their late bloom time extends the Daffodil season. Zones 4-8.

K8548-8—3 for $4.99; 6 for $8.99; 12 for $16.99; 24 for $31.99

Tulip Donna Bella - New

A marvelous season-extender! The combination of striking, bicolored flowers and attractive, mottled foliage gives this Tulipa greigii hybrid remarkable value over a much longer period than most Tulips. As flower buds swell late in the season, they develop dramatic, sharply contrasting vertical stripes of brilliant carmine red and creamy yellow. When the solitary, cup-shaped blossoms open they reveal a cream-yellow interior with red blotches over a startling black base. The leaves are especially outstanding, broad at the base and recurving, with a glaucous green color beautifully mottled with purple-red. This is one of the shorter Tulips, growing 6 to 8 inches tall — perfect for the front of the border or bed. Repeats well over several years. A beauty! Zones 3-8.

K7983-9—6 for $5.99; 12 for $10.99; 24 for $20.99

Spiraea japonica Shibori

An impressive and truly different Spiraea! Only 2 to 3 feet tall, its graceful weeping branches are covered by masses of white, red, and pink flowers with the main flush in late spring and early summer, continuing well into fall. All three colors will be presented on the plant at the same time. Overall effect is delicate and airy, even when not in bloom. Superb as an edging shrub or for the limited-space garden, and a splendid plant for patio containers. Easy to grow, this is unquestionably the most desirable Spiraea. Zones 4-9.

K47550-0—$12.99 each; 3 for $24.99; 6 for $68.99
