We are excited about our first offering of specialty daffodils. We started many years ago growing cut flowers on our farm to sell at the local farmers markets. Then the daffodil took over our world and our collection has grown to a point we can offer them for sale. We want to preserve quality exhibition flowers that are becoming harder to find. The future may bring our own hybrids. Our special love is the Poet, Division 9 daffodil which we want to share with you. Dr. Bender's poet Dylan Thomas is being offered for the first time anywhere.

At our first National Convention in 2000 John Hunter gave us a bulb of the exquisite Elphin Dell. It was the start of our love of the now popular intermediate.

To see pictures of the flowers offered search Daffseek on the American Daffodil Society web page: www.daffodilusa.org whose web site offers a wealth of information on all things daffodil!

Please place your orders by September first. Orders will be filled in order of mailing dates.
