As well as his strong will, Carlo had another sterling quality - generosity. He always had time; time to teach, time to judge, especially daffodils and tulips, time to discuss with others his many interests, as a horticulturalist, as a sportsman, as a keen shot and as a driver, especially of his well loved Bentley.

Carlo was a member of the Narcissus and Tulip Committee between 1958 and 1992, also a member of the Floral ‘A’ Committee, and judged at Westminster, Chelsea and the Wisley Trials. In addition to the Peter Barr Memorial Cup which he was awarded by the RHS in 1978, Carlo was widely respected and honoured by the cut-flower trade, whom he had persuaded to market daffodils at the pencil-bud stage. He was awarded the OBE in 1981.

All his many friends will miss this lust of wires, a true optimist, always more interested in others than himself, but above all a towering figure of the flower world.

Skelmersdale

DR W A BENDER

Dr W A “Bill” Bender was born in 1914 and died suddenly on 15 October 1997, at his home in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. An outstandingly successful exhibitor at American daffodil shows, Bill’s interests gradually shifted towards hybridizing. He successfully directed for many years the American Daffodil Society’s (ADS) “Hybridizers Robin”, of which I was briefly a member. As a novice hybridizer I found it both inspirational and practical. This “Robin” was a letter which circulated continuously between a small group of hybridizers, each of whom added their comments and questions in turn. In the USA, a large country where daffodil enthusiasts had limited opportunity to meet regularly, and before the advent of the Internet and cheap telephone calls, it was an excellent way to communicate. Another initiative was the hybridizers breakfast which Bill founded at the 1981 ADS National Convention and Show. This popular event is now attended by well over 50 people each year and has been successfully copied in various guises around the world.

Bill Bender was twice President of the ADS who awarded him both their Silver and Gold Medals. His articles, talks and judging skills had a major influence on a generation of American daffodil enthusiasts. As is unfortunately often the case with amateur hybridizers, Bill Bender’s daffodil introductions suffered from limited distribution. ‘Pops Legacy’ 1W-Y which he raised from open pollinated crosses by the late Phil Phillips was Bill Bender’s best known flower in the United kingdom. It is reported that at the time of his death Bill had 15,000 seedlings and attempts are being made to ensure that these are not lost to posterity.

Malcolm Bradbury

EDWARD OSBORNE

We who exhibit daffodils at Westminster and Tonbridge were saddened to learn of the death of Edward Osborne on 10 January 1998. Ted, as he liked to be known, was born in 1914 and became a teacher by profession, teaching in schools in the Thanet area of Kent.

He married Wyn in 1933 to whom we extend our condolences. Moving as teaching posts dictated, Ted ended his teaching career in Birchington. He already had an interest in growing flowers and exhibited daffodils at local horticultural society shows. Ted became President of Birchington Horticultural Society and joined the South East England Daffodil Group as a member. It was at one of our meetings that I approached Ted with the idea of his becoming our President after the death of Bob Southan. He was lost for words, which for him was very unusual, as you all knew his dry sense of humour and outspoken ways.

Ted became the Daffodil Steward at Westminster and carried out the duties of this essential and at times difficult post with aplomb. In his 84th year at the time of his death he had decided to resign and was looking for a successor. He will be greatly missed.

Geoff Ridley
As well as his strong will, Carlo had another sterling quality - generosity. He always had time; time to teach, time to judge, especially daffodils and tulips, time to discuss with others his many interests, as a horticulturalist, as a sportsman, as a keen shot and as a driver, especially of his well loved Bentley.

Carlo was a member of the Narcissus and Tulip Committee between 1958 and 1992, also a member of the Floral ‘A’ Committee, and judged at Westminster, Chelsea and the Wisley Trials. In addition to the Peter Barr Memorial Cup which he was awarded by the RHS in 1978, Carlo was widely respected and honoured by the cut-flower trade, whom he had persuaded to market daffodils at the pencil-bud stage. He was awarded the OBE in 1981.

All his many friends will miss this livest of wires, a true optimist, always more interested in others than himself, but above all a towering figure of the flower world.

Skelmersdale

DR W A BENDER

Dr W A “Bill” Bender was born in 1914 and died suddenly on 15 October 1997, at his home in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. An outstandingly successful exhibitor at American daffodil shows, Bill’s interests gradually shifted towards hybridizing. He successfully directed for many years the American Daffodil Society's (ADS) “Hybridizers Robin”, of which I was briefly a member. As a novice hybridizer I found it both inspirational and practical. This “Robin” was a letter which circulated continuously between a small group of hybridizers, each of whom added their comments and questions in turn. In the USA, a large country where daffodil enthusiasts had limited opportunity to meet regularly, and before the advent of the Internet and cheap telephone calls, it was an excellent way to communicate. Another initiative was the hybridizers breakfast which Bill founded at the 1981 ADS National Convention and Show. This popular event is now attended by well over 50 people each year and has been successfully copied in various guises around the world.

Bill Bender was twice President of the ADS who awarded him both their Silver and Gold Medals. His articles, talks and judging skills had a major influence on a generation of American daffodil enthusiasts. As is unfortunately the case with amateur hybridizers, Bill Bender’s daffodil introductions suffered from limited distribution. ‘Pops Legacy’ 1W-Y which he raised from open pollinated crosses by the late Phil Phillips was Bill Bender’s best known flower in the United kingdom. It is reported that at the time of his death Bill had 15,000 seedlings and attempts are being made to ensure that these are not lost to posterity.

Malcolm Bradbury

EDWARD OSBORNE

We who exhibit daffodils at Westminster and Tonbridge were saddened to learn of the death of Edward Osborne on 10 January 1998. Ted, as he liked to be known, was born in 1914 and became a teacher by profession, teaching in schools in the Thanet area of Kent.

He married Wyn in 1933 to whom we extend our condolences. Moving as teaching posts dictated, Ted ended his teaching career in Birchington. He already had an interest in growing flowers and exhibited daffodils at local horticultural society shows. Ted became President of Birchington Horticultural Society and joined the South East England Daffodil Group as a member. It was at one of our meetings that I approached Ted with the idea of his becoming our President after the death of Bob Southan. He was lost for words, which for him was very unusual, as you all knew his dry sense of humour and outspoken ways.

Ted became the Daffodil Steward at Westminster and carried out the duties of this essential and at times difficult post with aplomb. In his 84th year at the time of his death he had decided to resign and was looking for a successor. He will be greatly missed.

Geoff Ridley