Daffodils and Narcissi

The beauty of the Daffodil and the Narcissus is unquestioned and the fascination of the new varieties which appear each year gives proof of the ever growing interest and keen competition to obtain new varieties both by the professional grower and the amateur, many of whom spend a life-time in experimenting and hoping to raise new varieties. Some confusion sometimes arises when Daffodils are referred to as Narcissi. The term Narcissus is the correct botanical name of the whole genus and Daffodil is the popular name but nevertheless of considerable antiquity and acceptance. 'Daffodils' are generally understood to be that section of the genus which possess long trumpets and the commonly called Narcissi are the short-cupped and poeticus types. It is well to be clear as to the description of the bulbs offered in our Catalogue. A Mother bulb is composed of a number of old and young portions which will give three to four blooms, a Double Nosed bulb has not less than two Flowering 'noses' enclosed in one outer skin and generally gives two and sometimes more flowers. A round bulb has no offsets and seldom gives more than one bloom. We handle only Double-Nosed and Mother Bulbs.

Naturalizing Daffodils and Narcissi in Grass etc. Most Daffodils and Narcissi are suitable for naturalizing but in very heavy soils, preference should be given to stronger growing kinds e.g. Trumpet varieties and many Large-Cupped. They are all admirably adaptable for grassy slopes and banks, where they should be freely planted. A splendid effect is obtained when Trumpet and other varieties are grouped separately, scattered on the ground and planted where they fall.

Soil and its Treatment. Daffodils and Narcissi will thrive in any well-cultivated and well-drained garden soil. In preparing the ground for planting, dig deeply and if well-rotted stable or cow manure is available this may advantageously be worked in 18 to 20 inches deep so as not to come into immediate contact with the bulbs. Never use fresh manure of any kind at planting time. On poor and dry sandy soils we recommend a dressing of bone meal at a rate of about 1 oz. per square yard to be sprinkled over the surface of the ground after planting.

Growing Daffodils in the greenhouse or indoors. Many Daffodils and Narcissi are suitable for this purpose some varieties responding better than others to forcing. Pot up the bulbs on arrival and if ordinary pots are used take a good loamy soil, adding sufficient sand and peat to keep the mixture open. A light dusting of bone meal is also useful. Pot firmly in well-crooked pots. For bowls without drainage holes use a good fibre. Plunge the pots and/or bowls in the coolest place of your garden and in the absence of garden space the pots may be placed in a cool cellar (35-40° F) where watering from time to time is necessary. When the shoots are about 4 inches long and the flower buds well out of the neck of the bulbs, the pots may be removed into a warm room. Heat should be gradually increased from 50° to max. 60° F.

It is advisable to remove the foliage of the sideshoots, if these do not show a flower bud. Just before the buds are open, water should be sprayed lightly over the buds, when they are in bloom less water should be applied.

Revised System for the Classification of Daffodils, in use since January 1, 1950.

Hyacinths

The Hyacinth like the Tulip is a bulb of great antiquity although it was only brought from Asia to Europe less than four hundred years ago and as well as the Tulip figured in the Dutch Bulb craze of 1635. In the second part of the 18th century France led the fashion in flowers and Madame de Pompadour forced the French Court to adopt the Hyacinths as the fashionable flower, giving the trade great prosperity and hence the many French names found among the varieties, such as La Victoire, Grand Maître, L'Innocence etc., but the Revolution changed this and the Hyacinth came within the reach of all classes and ceased to be the proud exclusive possession of the French Aristocracy.

CULTURE IN POTS AND BOWLS

Hyacinths should be potted either in soil or fibre early in September for Christmas flowering and every fortnight thereafter for succession. Plunge pots in the coolest place of the garden, or place in a dark, cool cellar.

After not less than 8 weeks remove to the forcing house as required, but care should always be taken that the bulbs are well-rooted and the buds well out of the neck of the bulbs before beginning to force, as successful cultivation depends almost completely on these points. To keep the foliage dwarf and to assist the perfect colouring of the flowers, they should have occasionally a supply of liquid manure during the growing period. Always use clean old pots.

HYACINTHS IN GLASSES

This old-fashioned way is in favour again now that the proper glasses are on the market.

Fill the glass with water (rainwater preferred) almost to touch the base of the bulbs. A few pieces of charcoal should be put in the glass, as this keeps the water clean. The next procedure is the simple one of placing the glasses in any dark cool room, cellar or cupboard until the sprouts are about 3 inches high, then they may be brought gradually to the full light. Although this system of culture is very simple, it is of first importance that the largest size bulbs are obtained.

OUTDOOR CULTURE

For successful cultivation in the open air, Hyacinths may be planted any time from September to December. September and October are the best months; they like a light rich soil, the ground should be well-drained. Plant the bulbs at equal distances apart in circles or in straight lines and about 5 inches deep. Never plant the bulbs when the ground is wet. They require a little covering of straw or a thin layer of leaves during the winter to protect them from frost.
